

KNOW IT WELL

Familiar Features Well Known To Hundreds of Norwich Citizens.

A familiar burden in every home, the burden of a "bad back." A lame, a weak or an aching back tells you of kidney ill. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Here is Norwich testimony to prove it:

Eugene Sweet, Sunnyside Avenue, Norwich, Conn., says: "It was at least twelve years ago that I first learned of the value of Doan's Kidney Pills. At that time I was in great need of a kidney remedy. For eight weeks I was confined to my bed on account of lumbago and was almost helpless, having to be turned over and being unable to move at all without assistance. My suffering was about all any person could endure. Sharp pains across my loins and kidneys caused sleep of the worst kind. In addition to this I was annoyed by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. I consulted three of the best physicians in Providence, R. I., but they failed to make the slightest improvement. It was finally my good fortune to read of Doan's Kidney Pills and I was so much impressed with what was said in their favor that I began their use. Their beneficial effect was soon noticeable and I continued to improve so rapidly that I was soon able to resume work. I give the entire credit of my recovery to Doan's Kidney Pills, and never intend to be without a supply in the house. More than one sufferer from kidney complaint and rheumatism has thanked me for telling him about the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills."

OVER $1,000,000.

Collector Reeves' Receipts in Waterbury Twenty Per Cent. Larger Than Four Years Ago.

The income of the tax collector's office so far this year is about $1,010,000. This is an increase of $75,000 or 7.5 per cent. over that of last year.

In 1905, the year before Francis T. Reeves began his first term as tax collector, the total income of the office was $824,000. Mr. Reeves' receipts this year are $1,780,000 more than in 1905, an increase of over 20 per cent. In addition the total revenue for this year will be increased by one day's collection of the special state and county tax. Mr. Reeves estimates that at least $100,000 of this special tax will be paid on the first day, Dec. 1.

This increase in the receipts is due to the larger grand list, increased water rents and to the fact that Mr. Reeves put into effect the partial payment system, and hence has only a small amount of uncalled taxes on his books.—Waterbury Republican.

EXCITING ELECTION IN ALABAMA

Prohibition Amendment to the State Constitution Defeated by from 12,000 to 20,000 Votes—Feeling Ran High

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 29.—Alabama today defeated a prohibition amendment to the state constitution by a majority estimated at from 12,000 to 20,000 votes. Today's election was the first popular expression in Alabama on the subject.

The statewide prohibition bill was passed by a legislature which had been elected on a local option platform; and while several counties had declared for prohibition under the local option act the voters of the entire state had never before been called on to pass on the question direct.

In Birmingham the election was the most exciting ever witnessed. Hundreds of people were crowded around each polling place, women and children were singing and brass bands stationed by the anti-amendment forces were playing patriotic airs.

Impossible to Keep Track of Fists Fights.

Each polling place was enlivened by its quota of fist fights, there being so many that it was impossible to keep track of them. Feeling was so high that a few words were sufficient to bring on blows. Every other voter was challenged and required to make affidavit to being a qualified elector. This delayed the casting of ballots considerably, but in spite of handicaps the vote was heavy.

Deep Feeling Displayed.

As an instance of the deep feeling displayed, a preacher, on whose coat a young woman attempted to pin a white ribbon at the polling booth, declined, telling her it was improper for young women to speak in the street. The woman began crying and the preacher apologized for hurting her feelings, but said the polling places were improper places for young women. The affair called taken up all over the city and partisans commended or denounced the conduct of the preacher, according to their sentiments on the question at stake.

SCIENCE OF RIGHT LIVING.

Or Every Man a Potential Centenarian.

To the Editor of the Brooklyn Eagle:

The right way to make the most of life is a subject that has been but little considered when taking into account its great importance. True, a few who are commonly called fanatics have given much time to one or another of the problems of life, but the first in order of them to live, what shall we eat and drink, is as yet much in controversy. Some advocate strongly and consider vital what others contradict. But the tests of experience and experiment are gradually illuminating the path and demonstration of facts will make the course clear, so that none may err. The body is made up of what food is utilized, so that if a strong, vigorous body is desirable only the best building material should be used, nor should the esthetic ideal of the ignorant appetite be allowed to dictate the choice. Reason and judgment on demonstrated facts should have control. Whatever food materials harmonize with the natural action of the body are the best. Except for the deep collar and cuffs, the coat will be entirely black. Each skin is cut in such a way that the white streaks do not show. The collar and cuffs, however, are decorated with white strips of fur, each one exactly four and a half inches in length. Around the bottom of the coat there is a border eight inches deep of the heaviest black fur. Otherwise the famous coat is perfectly plain. It is forty-six inches long and the lining, besides an intermediate one of soft deerskin, is of white silk.

Not the least interesting detail of the coat is the identification mark on the inside of the collar. This is a clever representation of the seal of the United States and is made wholly of genuine quills. These quills are tiny bits of spines dyed red, white and blue, and so cleverly are they put together that a perfect miniature of the seal is the result. Below, in heavily embroidered crimson silk, is the one initial "T."—Baltimore News.

The Earth Still Shaking.

The seismic shock at Salinas, California, on Monday, which exceeded in severity any that has been felt since the San Francisco earthquake of 1906, reminds us of the remarkable duration of the present period of the earth's instability. Since the eruption in Martinique in 1902 there has been a constant succession of tremors and emissions, and while science assures us that there is no necessary connection between the two, to the lay mind it seems as if the occurrence of one were pretty certain to portend the appearance of the other. In California there have been so many shakings of the earth in the last three and a half years that they now attract little attention, yet a shock like this at Salinas, which caused buildings to rock and creak for fifteen seconds, is calculated to make even the blasé Californian sit up and take notice.—Providence Journal.

WALLINGFORD STUDENT

Won Prize at Yale for English Composition and Oratory.

It was announced Tuesday at chapel at Yale that J. Frank Collins of Wallingford was one of the successful ones in the competition for the Teneyck prize in English composition and oratory. There were five winners out of a field of thirty and these five will now enter a contest in oratory for first place. The prizes consist of the proceeds from a fund of $2,600. Each of those chosen received a fifth of the amount offered, but the first man in the contest received $500 in cash. This award is in the junior division. Last year President Taft's son was one of the five in the same contest. As a freshman Mr. Collins won a similar prize last year, it being a share of the Settle prize. He winning first place and getting the cash award of $50. The subject on which Mr. Collins wrote this year was "The College Man in Politics." That he should win two years in succession is particularly good news to his friends. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Collins and is in his second year at college.

Bran Biscuits. Scientists, like trusts, are righteously to be classed as good, bad and indifferent, we suppose. The bad ones are forever poking around among germs and things, discovering fashionable diseases with long Latin names and expensive operation attachments. The good search out cheap but wholesome substitutes for expensive foods and things. The indifferent are not worthy of consideration at all, of course.

One of the benevolent variety referred to has been busy out in Battle Creek, Mich., where the breakfast provender comes from, you know, investigating along his usual lines of endeavor, and has reached the conclusion that the most digestible and thoroughly nourishing part of the wheat is the bran thereof, and that man makes a great mistake when he permits it to be used for chicken and stock feed only. This good scientist has experimented exhaustively with bran biscuits, and finds them not only appetizing and satisfying to the demands of hunger, but extremely valuable as tissue builders and blood enrichers. In addition to these highly gratifying attributes the biscuits are ridiculously cheap in comparison with their more patriotic kinsmen, the white bread.—Washington Herald.
